LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL,

AFFIDAVIT OF DAYMON B. ELY

For his Affidavit regarding House Resolution 1 (HR 1), providing House rules for the conduct of the first session of the fifty-fifth Legislature adopted by the House of Representatives on January 25, 2021¹ adding, amending and suspending various rules governing the House of Representatives which are at issue in the instant case.

Affiant states and affirms that:

1. I am a member of the New Mexico House of Representatives, and serve as Chair of the House Rules and Order of Business Committee ("House Rules Committee") which is responsible for the rules of the House.
2. Prior to the beginning of the first session of the fifty-fifth Legislature, it fell to the Committee to fashion rules that might allow the House to function under the difficult circumstances posed by the presence of the COVID-19 pandemic. Those difficulties we faced included the likelihood that: the capitol would be closed to the public; stringent health measures would be required of members of the House and their staff; the health measures would preclude full use of the House chamber and committee rooms; arrangements would be required to allow for remote or virtual attendance of members and staff; arrangements would have to be made for limited but effective press coverage of the session; and systems would be required to allow the public to follow the conduct of the session and be allowed to participate in remote fashion.
3. The Committee was well aware the circumstances would require substantial additions and changes to existing rules, and established that the following four principles would guide our discussions and decision-making:

- 1) the safety of our staff, House members and their families, and others with whom we will necessarily be in contact;
- 2) the equal treatment of all members to be able to fairly and forcefully debate matters in committee and on the floor, and create sufficient opportunity to deliberate collectively;
- 3) the creation of reasonable opportunity for public viewing and participation in legislative discussion and debate; and
- 4) ensuring that all of our actions would be open and transparent.

4. Our Committee had the benefit of expert assistance from state health advisors knowledgeable on protective measures and systems, as well as aid from technological staff at the Legislative Council Service. We also derived very useful experience from participating in two special sessions at earlier stages of the pandemic attempting various ad hoc efforts to conduct those sessions while successfully avoiding exposures to the virus. With that expert assistance and on the basis of our earlier experience, the new and amended rules were designed as listed in the summaries that follow.

5. While purpose clauses are generally avoided in our rules, the emergency situation requiring new and amended rules were detailed in preliminary "whereas" clauses concerning the background of the disease, the necessary public health order of the Governor to prevent its spread, and the deficiencies of the then existing rules to allow the House to function in the face of the pandemic. See HR 1 at 1-3. Also important was the constant reminder throughout HR 1 that the new and altered rules were only effective “for the first session of the fifty-fifth legislature.” See id. at 3-4, 8 and 13-14.

6, New rules were developed as follows:

Rule 4-1-1 gave the speaker authority to ensure that everyone in our chamber was given the proper personal protective equipment and followed the social distancing protocols recommended by the state’s secretary of health. See id. at 4;

Rule 7-1-1 redefined members’ “presence” to include “if the member is participating by simultaneous, remote, electronic or telephonic means as confirmed by the speaker.” See id. This was consistent with a new rule on the subject in Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedure (2020). Mason’s rules are used by the House if a procedure is not covered by the House Rules and help guide our practices. The new Mason’s Section 786 states: “[a]bsent specific authorization by the constitution or adopted rules of the body, remote participation in floor sessions by members of the legislative body is prohibited.”[emphasis added]

Rule 7-1-2 allowed that the Speaker and the leadership of both parties to be physically present in the chamber as well as the house appropriations and finance committee members at regularly scheduled hearings, all subject to “proper social distancing measures and appropriate safety protocols.” See id.;

Rule 7-4-2 was created to alter the traditional “call of the house” which would have created a dangerous situation by requiring the physical presence of all members on the floor with the doors shut. By completing a call of the house through the verification of a ~~role~~ roll call by the chief clerk, that was avoided and allowed it to take place by virtual means. See id.;

Rule 7-8-1 altered “Points of order” which were traditionally made on the House Floor and provided for them to be made by notification through the party leaders who would then alert the Speaker to call the remote member attempting to make the point of order. See id. at 4-5;

Rule 7-12-2 allowed for the use of headsets “to preserve decorum” by avoiding unnecessary feedback while communicating remotely. See id. at 5;

Rule 7-13-1 requires that “[a] member who is present and is called to order is not permitted to resume speaking until the speaker has determined whether the member is in order.” See id.;

Rule 7-19 requires that “members, staff and guests” wear masks except in a private office, with possible sanctions for failure to comply. See id.;

Rules 8-9; 8-9-1 and 8-9-2 established limited floor sessions to do the paperwork of the house: introduction of legislation, messages and committee reports and referrals. In such a session only the Speaker’s and the leaders’ attendance is required. However, a quorum of 36 is still required and no substantive motions can be taken at such sessions. See id. at 5-7;

Rules 11-9-2 and 11-21-2 allow electronic filings of paperwork and electronic signatures rather than in-person appointments to avoid unnecessary in-person interaction with the house staff and clerk's office. See id. at 7;

Rule 23-3-1: confirms the need for press accommodation "in accordance with public health guidelines." See id.;

Rule 23-8-2: importantly protects public access by providing that legislative processes would stop if either the live audio or video stream ceased to function. See id.;

Rule 23-8-3 requires that live video stream feature the member or witness speaking (as opposed to the gallery view of the committee or floor). See id.;

Rule 26-3 protects security by prohibiting members from disclosing confidential security information. See id. at 7-8;

7. Existing rules were amended as follows:

Rules 7-1 and 7-3 add to the definition of "presence" to include "by simultaneous, remote, electronic or telephonic means," and provides the method for raising and resolving the presence of a quorum. See id. at 8;

Rules 7-8 and 7-13 require, other than the Speaker and the majority and minority leaders, that all members participate in matters on the floor by electronic or telephonic means, to avoid excessive use of microphones to further protect against the virus and to avoid interruptions; and that members refrain from speaking until recognized in order. See id. at 9-10;

Rule 9-5-6 provides for public participation in committees by webcast and public testimony submitted to the committee electronically at the discretion of the chair. See id. at 10;

Rule 23-2 limits access to the house floor, rostrum, lounges and hallways to members and staff, and removes previous exceptions. See id. at 11;

Rule 23-8 makes explicit the importance of limiting control of public address equipment (i.e., including microphones) to leadership and necessary clerks, thereby avoiding unnecessary potential exposure to the virus, and the violation of this rule may be a cause for discipline. See id.;

Rule 23-8-1 details the commitments of the House to audio and visual streaming to enhance public access to the proceedings of the House. See id. at 11-12.

Further affiant sayeth not.
