Courtroom Defense in Serious Criminal Cases

Our law firm's immediate intervention, including a complete case investigation, helped reach numerous successful outcomes. The clients faced the risk of long sentences as well as losing child custody and/or professional licensing. And most criminal charges were dropped or set for dismissal.

No Formal Charges: A client was arrested for domestic violence. Our office presented the government evidence highlighting the unreliability of the alleged victim and her motive to lie. The City Attorney's Office agreed with our position and rejected the prosecution. No charges at arraignment.

Vehicular Manslaughter Case: A client charged with vehicular manslaughter after a racing collision left two dead, with speeds in excess of 100 MPH. Defense avoided murder charge and possible life sentence following firm's case investigation and presentation to the prosecutor and trial judge. Client to serve one year in custody.

Law Enforcement Officer Investigated and Arrested: Statutory Rape charges dropped at arraignment, following our firm's precourt intervention and case investigation.

No Charges following Domestic Violence arrest: Following our firm's precourt intervention and investigation, the City Attorney's Office rejected the case for prosecution and referred it for an informal hearing. Client's record to remain clean.

Domestic Violence Case with Priors: Our firm took the case over from another attorney, and the client was facing 6 months or more in custody. Following our defense investigation, client was accepted into Mental Health Diversion and will have a full dismissal/sealing of records upon successful completion of treatment.

No Jail Time in Sexual Assault Case: A college student was accused of sexual assault after a mental health crisis. Our office presented substantial mitigation and medical/psychiatric records to the prosecutor, who eventually agreed that our client posed no further risk, agreeing to our request for no custody time with probation.

Referral to Diversion Program in Federal Drug Case: A client was accused of federal gang and drug trafficking charges. Following an evidentiary presentation, the prosecutor referred our client to CASA, diverting our client out of the criminal case. Case to be dismissed following completion of drug treatment.

Diversion Following Indecent Exposure Arrest: Diversion granted in two cases for real estate professional, going through a mental health crisis.

Military Diversion for Veteran: A veteran was accused of driving under the influence of alcohol, leading to the injuring of his dog. Following our defense efforts, client obtained diversion from a federal judge, allowing our client to avoid a conviction.

Non-Prosecution in Vandalism Investigation: A licensed professional was investigated for vandalism, that he committed after being kicked out of a restaurant. Our office negotiated extensively with the victim establishment, provided full restitution fee, which ultimately led to avoiding an arrest and formal criminal charges.

Judicial Diversion in Street Racing Case: A client was charged in court with reckless driving after being accused of racing another driver. Following the presentation of defense evidence, the prosecutor eventually did not object to our request for judicial diversion that will ultimately result in all charges being dismissed.

Mental Health Diversion in Commercial Burglary Case: A client was charged with burglarizing a high-end restaurant. The firm successfully advocated for mental health diversion, thereby allowing our client to avoid a conviction after successful treatment.

Non-Prosecution in Federal False Statement Investigation: A military employee was accused of making a false statement to enter a secured installation. Following our office presentation of evidence, the prosecutor did not charge our client and the base commander allowed our client access back to facility.

Diversion in Domestic Violence Case: A doctor was charged with domestic violence after his ex-wife claimed he assaulted her. Our office highlighted the lack of significant evidence to the prosecutor, and case resolved with a diversionary offer leading to a dismissal.
