

Wrongful Death Lawsuit vs. Troubled Corporate Giant

The Goldberg Noone law firm is preparing for a wrongful death trial against one of the state's largest corporations, 21st Century Oncology. It's no secret that the huge conglomerate, which provides cancer and other screening and testing for physicians, is embroiled in multiple whistleblower lawsuits. They are accused of illegally dividing up cancer treatment services in Southwest Florida, billing Medicare and Tricare for medically unnecessary tests, and many other illegalities. 21st Century Oncology has spent $54.5 million to settle two other federal civil investigations, and just last month was served another lawsuit alleging the company used kickbacks and political connections to Governor Rick Scott to secure a lucrative no-bid contract with the public Broward Health hospital system.

"We represent the estate of a young man who was tragically killed while on his motorcycle when a driver for 21st Century Oncology crashed into him", says attorney Sheba Abraham. "We're not afraid to take them to court to prove their negligent hiring, supervision and training practices, and to receive justice for our client's family."
